Two new schools in August mean new boundaries too

Two new schools are opening in Comal ISD this August. Oak Creek Elementary opens on Goodwin Lane in New Braunfels and Johnson Ranch Elementary opens at Hwy 281 and FM 1863 in Bulverde. Both campuses will serve kindergarten through 5th grade.

With new schools come new boundaries. The initial boundaries for these two schools were approved by the school board a couple of years ago.

They were reviewed this school year and minor adjustments have been made to the Oak Creek attendance zone, which impact Goodwin Frazier ES and Hoffmann Lane ES.

The attendance zone for Johnson Ranch ES remains unchanged and impacts the Specht ES and Rahe Bulverde ES boundaries.

Voters funded both schools —Oak Creek and Johnson Ranch — through the $189 million Bond 2005 issue approved in December of that year. The schools' new boundaries allow the district to relieve overcrowding on several campuses by balancing enrollment and allowing for future growth.
