STZES students say goodbye to summer with watermelon eating contest

Fourth graders at Startzville Elementary held a "Say Goodbye to Summer" celebration Sept. 27.

During the event students had watermelon-eating and seed-spitting contests and made fruit smoothies with nutritious ingredients like bananas, blueberries, pineapple, and strawberries.

They even incorporated math and science into the festivities by measuring the circumference and weight of each watermelon and hypothesizing how many seeds each would contain.
